

Compliance TODAY

A PUBLICATION OF THE HEALTH CARE COMPLIANCE ASSOCIATION

NOVEMBER 2018

Learning from a diverse clinical background

---

an interview with
Lori Strauss

FEATURES

- 14 Meet Lori Strauss
an interview by Gerry Zack
- 22 Maximize your HCCA membership
by Cheyenne L. Ross Making full use of the abundance of available HCCA resources can help you grow as a professional and improve your compliance program.
- 26 Eat your dessert first: The foundation of compliance management skills
by S. Leah Yoder
Managers who practice nine learning agility skills can have a positive effect on organizational culture, and a good culture can become a competitive advantage.
- 30 [CEU] False Claims Act enforcement: Evolving policies from the DOJ
by Gabriel L. Imperato
The DOJ has created a more organization-friendly compliance environment by releasing new policies that make it easier to dismiss qui tam suits.
- 36 [CEU] Auditing compliance with CMS provider-based rules
by Ilah R. Naudasher and Claire Turcotte
Five key audits tips plus a full-page template to help hospitals get a handle on provider-based departments and space-sharing arrangements that may affect reimbursement rates.
- 44 Are you prepared for ACO contracting?
by Charles Oppenheim, Jeremy Sherer, and Stephanie Gross
Questions provider organizations should ask before entering into an Accountable Care Organization agreement to ensure they understand the implications.

COLUMNS

- 3 Letter from the Incoming CEO
by Gerry Zack
- 21 Exhale
by Catherine Boerner
- 25 Managing Compliance
by Lynda S. Hilliard
- 29 The Compliance–Quality Connection
by Sharon Parsley
- 35 Samantha Says
by Samantha Kelen
- 43 Security Awareness Reminder
by Frank Ruelas
- 49 Reflections in Research
by Kelly M. Willenberg

DEPARTMENTS

- 6 News
- 13 People on the Move
- 88 Newly Certified Designees
- 91 Takeaways
- 92 Upcoming Events

Compliance Today is printed with 100% soy-based, water-soluble inks on recycled paper. Interior pages are double-coated sheets made from 80% recycled content, which includes 60% post-consumer waste. The remaining 20% is virgin fiber that comes from responsibly managed forests and is FSC certified. Cover stock is made from 10% post-consumer waste and is produced near the printing facility in Minnesota. The energy used to produce the paper is 100% renewable. Certifications for the paper include The Forest Stewardship Council (FSC), Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI), and Green-e.org.

by Kelly M. Willenberg, DBA, RN, CCRP, CHRC, CHC

Participating in ONS Capitol Hill Days

Kelly M. Willenberg (Kelly@kellywillenberg.com) is President and CEO of Kelly Willenberg, LLC in Chesnee, SC.

I had the distinct honor of being nominated and selected for the Oncology Nursing Society's (ONS) Capitol Hill Days in Washington, DC this past September. A delegation of nearly 100 nurses converged upon the Capitol for two days of advocacy, education, and congressional meetings.

Willenberg

Bringing research to the forefront for the oncology nurses there, I wanted to provide an understanding of how all oncology nurses have to value their role in compliance. Surprisingly, some of the nurses in attendance felt they were not involved in clinical trials.

By the end of the two days, we found common ground in words like “clinical trial” and “research protocol.” I found people asking many questions about compliance!

Why are there questions about how research and nursing clinical care intersect? Nurses in all types of clinical departments need to know what research compliance is. Many expressed that they are not ever provided any education on clinical trial compliance at their hospital if they are in a clinical unit. Fielding questions and creating a positive perception of research compliance became my goal. Recognizing that clinical trial patients are out there and that the compliance risks are enormous, some nurses left Washington with healthcare research compliance on their minds.

I found I had an ability to sway discussion, impressing upon policy experts that a participant in a research trial may have financial toxicity or an increase in their cost of care due to their insurance denying coverage. Telling a government official that an oncology nurse can empower a patient who participates in a trial, I was able to deliver an appreciation of “research.” Realizing that a nurse who fails to know what is in an informed consent form or a protocol can lead to non-compliance issues, nurses across the country had something to think about when providing care to a research-enrolled patient.

Being “inside the Beltway” for a few days gave me an appreciation for how interpretation of the Clinical Trial Policy or HIPAA, for example, is different to a government official than for one of us who works in compliance. Discussion on the opioid epidemic, palliative care, and the cost of drugs was powerful. I learned that describing research compliance as a response can be different based on perception and roles. As an activist for research compliance, I hope there are nurses across the country who help to make a research study better by the knowledge they gained at the ONS Capitol Hill Days! Thank you ONS for the opportunity. 📍